Locum News & Views/Reviews Editor – Nature Medicine

Nature Publishing Group is the leading scientific publisher in the world. From our leading publishing platform (www.nature.com) to our social networking sites (network.nature.com, blogs.nature.com), our online presence is second to none.

Nature Medicine (<http://www.nature.com/nm>) seeks a Locum News & Views/Reviews Editor to join its editorial team for a period of approximately six months.

This exciting position, based in our New York office, involves working closely with the Chief Editor and other members of the journal team on identifying manuscripts worthy of coverage in the News & Views section, commissioning and developmentally editing News & Views and Reviews, and writing research highlights. The successful applicant will attend and organize scientific meetings and visit laboratories to maintain contact with the international scientific community.

Candidates should have a broad interest in biomedical science, excellent written and oral communication skills, be able to work closely with others, and have the ability to meet tight deadlines. Applicants will be required to have completed a Ph.D. and to have expertise in any of the areas covered in Nature Medicine. Previous editorial experience would be an advantage, but is not essential.

To apply, an interested candidate should fill out the application via the link below and be sure to submit (as a single file) a Curriculum Vitae, a short News and Views article (of 500-1,000 words), a brief (1-page) analysis of the strengths and weaknesses of Nature Medicine, and a cover letter explaining their interest in the position.

Applications, which will not be considered if they are incomplete, should arrive as soon as possible and no later than April 5, 2014.

This position will be located in our New York office.
