In this seminar, Lauren Celano, CEO of Propel Careers will discuss the important role that informational interviewing plays in a career search. She will provide advice on how to identify individuals for an informational interview, how to structure the interview and what questions to ask. Lauren will also provide advice on how to follow up after the discussion to build meaningful connections.