

Boston University School of Medicine
Graduate Medical Sciences

The GMS Press June 20th 2019

Spotlight Student Spotlight: Anna Nagy

A California native and graduate of an arts high school, Anna Nagy did not initially plan to study genetic counseling in Boston. During her undergraduate years, she decided to make the shift from piano to science and studied human biology at Stanford University. It was when she worked in a laboratory and researched Type 2 diabetes, however, that Anna became fascinated by the scientific research process.

“I kind of fell in love with the way some of the researchers think, and their ability to ask questions and answer them,” she said.

See Anna's Full Interview here.

News and Events:

Grant Workshop: Understanding the NH Process - 6/20
June 20th, L-109AB

Med Campus Fitpass Summer 2019
May 20th - August 9th

Deadlines & Schedule:

Fall 2019 Registration Open

Masters Diploma Application, September Award
Past Due: May 20th

Tuition Payments for Summer I
Past Due: May 22nd

Summer I
May 21st - June 28th

Summer II
July 1st - August 9th

Thesis format review ongoing from July 1st through August 5th

Thesis Submission Deadline
August 7th

Connect with Graduate Medical Sciences

How the Online World is Affecting the Human Brain

Taste of Allston on Saturday

Want to submit an event or deadline to the GMS Press? Fill out our form here.