Basic Boston Housing Traits:

1. Boston is an old city, and our housing is old too. Many apartments do not have elevators, central air conditioning, or laundry in-building.

2. Boston’s rental housing is in short supply and many apartments too pricey to afford alone. Finding roommates is key.

3. Boston is a college town, which means most apartments begin to turn over during the summer and continue up to the beginning of September.

Students are strongly encouraged to start their apartment search early and to visit apartments before signing a lease. Most landlords will not rent to tenants who they have not met.

Finding Roommates

Most students in Boston will live with roommates to make housing more affordable. Before deciding to live with a roommate, students should make sure they have three “C’s”: credit, consideration, and communication. Roommates in Boston are “jointly and severally” liable for rent, meaning that if one roommate doesn’t pay, everyone else has to make up the rest.

2. BostonApartments.com
Although most of the apartments are listed by realtors, the ‘no fee’ section of the listings is very useful.

3. www.padmapper.com

Realtors

If you are short on time or have very specific criteria, using a realtor is a good option. They can drive you around, show you several apartments during one appointment, and may know a lot about the neighborhood where they work. Most Boston realtors charge a realtor fee or commission, which can be up to one month’s rent.

Property Managers

Landlords hire managers to rent/maintain their buildings. No rental fee is charged.
