The SETTLE Study

Have you been diagnosed with Parkinson’s Disease?

Safinamide is an investigational drug being tested, which may improve your Parkinson’s Disease symptoms.

To participate, you must be above the age of 30, diagnosed with Parkinson’s more than 5 years ago, currently taking Levodopa, and a Dopamine Agonist (such as Requip and Mirapex) or Amantadine.

For research study participation information

CONTACT

Denyse Turpin, RN, MPH
617-638-7736
email: neurodlt@bu.edu

Raymond James, RN, BS
617-638-7745
email: rcjames@bu.edu

Medical assessments, study drug, and laboratory testing are provided.

Parkinson’s Disease and Movement Disorders Center
Boston University Department of Neurology