

Meet the BUMG Board of Trustees: Anthony Hollenberg, MD, BMC President

What drew you to serve as a trustee on the BUMG Board?

As part of my leadership journey, first as Chair of Medicine and now as President of Boston Medical Center, I was appointed as a trustee on the BUMG Board. This role allows me to contribute meaningfully to the strategic vision of BUMG while ensuring alignment with our shared mission of providing exceptional, equitable healthcare.

What do you enjoy most about serving on the board?

The BUMG Board comprises a diverse group of internal and external stakeholders, providing a unique and comprehensive perspective on our mission. The collaboration and shared commitment to improving our care system are superb.

If there's one thing, as a board member, you'd want to communicate with BUMG clinicians, what would that be?

I am a BUMG physician, and there is no greater privilege than taking care of patients. Our work is essential, and I deeply appreciate the dedication, expertise, and compassion of all of our clinicians.

What do you see as the biggest challenges facing BMC and BUMG?

Meeting unmet medical needs in a rapidly changing healthcare environment is one of our greatest challenges. From navigating public health crises to addressing social determinants of health, we must remain agile, innovative, and unwavering in our commitment to providing high-quality, accessible care to all who need it.

What is an interesting fact about you that no one would guess?

I have a strong Canadian identity and an avid Team Canada supporter in hockey.

Do you enjoy reading books? If so, what have you read lately that you enjoyed?

I primarily read scientific literature during my free time to stay updated with the latest research and advancements in medicine.

What are you watching on Netflix?

I recently finished Running Point. With a son working for the LA Lakers, it was a natural choice to watch something related to basketball.

Do you have any hobbies?

Most of my hobbies involve the outdoors: biking, boating, skiing, hiking and golf. I am especially fond of sailing which I have been lucky enough to do since I was kid.

Is there anything else you would like to share with the BUMG clinicians?

They are outstanding colleagues. Their dedication and commitment to patient care and medical excellence is inspiring.
