

Policy re Provision of Medical Treatment to BUSM Students by BUSM Faculty

BUSM faculty members may not teach or academically evaluate students for whom they provide or have provided medical care for sensitive health issues (e.g. mental health, sexually transmitted diseases or any health issue the student defines as sensitive). Prior to providing any medical care to a BUSM student, a faculty member must explain this policy and ask the medical student to sign this form.

This policy will be explained to BUSM students during orientation at matriculation and again at the class meeting on the BUSM 3 Schedule. When ranking clerkship sites, students may not include sites where their treating physician for sensitive health issues is located. In the unlikely event that the student is assigned to such a site, the faculty member must recuse him or herself from any evaluative or grading role.

This document will be kept by the student's treating health care provider.
