

Boston University Medical Campus Office of the Provost

After two decades of exploring options for providing child care for the Boston University Medical Campus, I'm pleased to announce that we have entered into an agreement with a company called Little Sprouts to provide these services, effective late fall 2012.

Little Sprouts is not affiliated with Boston University or the Boston University Children's Center. Established in 1982, Little Sprouts is a network of 16 early education centers in and around Greater Boston and Southern New Hampshire.

Little Sprouts will be located on the ground floor of the Medical Student Residence at 815 Albany Street. Plans are underway to construct the center. Priority for available child care slots will be given to BU Medical Campus employees and students, members of the BUMC Residency Programs, BU Charles River Campus employees and Boston Medical Center employees, in this order.

Little Sprouts will be issuing an announcement to the BUMC community shortly. For more information about Little Sprouts, visit www.littlesprouts.com. For specific information about the program to be offered on the BU Medical Campus, including the number of children (and the age ranges) it will accommodate, hours of operation, tuition, etc, please call 877-977-7688.
