

John McCahan Medical Campus
EDUCATION DAY
Fostering a vibrant community of educators
Wednesday, May 22

Attend Education Day to:

- Network with other creative educators in the BUMC community
- Showcase your innovations and ideas in classroom, clinical and lab teaching
- Cultivate your teaching skills

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS
BUMC faculty, fellows, residents, students and staff are invited to submit proposals for workshops and abstracts of ongoing or completed education projects.
Cash prizes awarded to top abstracts

Abstracts must be submitted by Friday, April 19

Innovation. n. Change that creates a new dimension of performance
-Peter Drucker

For more information or to submit an abstract go to <http://www.bumc.bu.edu/jmedday/>

Projects that have been presented in the past include:

"Promoting deep learning in a student centered classroom: A case study for Public Health"
"Teaching motivational interviewing in an ambulatory medicine clerkship"
"Assessment of a peer teaching model in Yemen"
"The effect of faculty presence vs. absence on small-group learning and group dynamics"
"Oral disease – Educational strategies to address a significant health issue in children"

Past workshops include:

How the brain learns: How neuroscience informs our teaching
Using digital media inside and outside the classroom
Technology-enhanced active learning

Karen Antman, MD
Provost, Boston University Medical Campus
Dean, School of Medicine
Professor of Medicine

