The Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Boston Medical Center
Boston University Chobanian & Avedisian School of Medicine is recruiting for a full-time Academic Generalist Obstetrician/Gynecologist

The Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Boston Medical Center/Boston University Chobanian & Avedisian School of Medicine is seeking a full-time General Obstetrician and Gynecologist to provide comprehensive health care in both inpatient and ambulatory settings, including actively participating in the educational and clinical training of residents and medical students. This physician will join a department that provides safe, high-quality, cost-effective obstetrical and gynecological care using evidence-based medicine and best practices. Physicians in this role will participate in labor and delivery coverage, surgical procedures, and ambulatory care. In addition to outpatient care in our hospital-based clinic, there are opportunities for ambulatory time at Boston Medical Center as well as our affiliated community health centers. Our multi-disciplinary team includes OB/GYN generalists, specialists in Maternal-Fetal Medicine, MIGS, Urogynecology, Gyn Oncology, Complex Family Planning, and REI, along with Certified Nurse Midwives, Nurse Practitioners, Physician Assistants, and Genetic Counselors.

Academic appointment will be at Boston University Chobanian & Avedisian School of Medicine. Rank and salary will be commensurate to qualifications and experience. This position includes competitive compensation, benefits package, and CME allowance.

Why Boston Medical Center? Emphasizing community-based care, Boston Medical Center (BMC) is the largest safety-net hospital in New England and is committed to providing consistently excellent and accessible health services to all, regardless of insurance status or any other considerations. BMC has a strong focus on public health, both domestic and global, and a commitment to reproductive health demonstrated by recently renovated state of the art facilities. 30% of our current faculty identify as Underrepresented in Medicine (URiM) and 50% of our residents identify as URiM. The hospital serves as the primary teaching affiliate of the nationally ranked Boston University Chobanian & Avedisian School of Medicine, a world class research institution with more than $250 million in research grants each year.

Highlights:

- Opportunity to work in a high-acuity labor and delivery unit, with approximately 3,000 deliveries/year
- Outpatient practice where generalists, subspecialists, CNMs, and NPs practice side by side
- Extensive 24/7 backup system
- In-house Anesthesia and Level 3 NICU
- Care for a diverse patient population in a supportive and collegial environment
- We encourage involvement in research, education, quality improvement, safety initiatives, and/or hospital and university committees

Minimum qualifications:

- Applicants must possess an MD/DO degree from an accredited medical school and have or be eligible to obtain a Massachusetts Medical License

- Applicants must be board certified or be an active candidate for board certification in Obstetrics and Gynecology
- Fluency in Spanish, or languages other than English, is highly desirable but not required
- Experience in high volume, high-risk obstetrics is also preferred

Applicants must have the ability to work collegially within a diverse environment and demonstrate a commitment to our institutional values regarding diversity, equity, and inclusion. BIPOC (Black/Brown, Indigenous, and other People of Color) applicants are encouraged to apply.

BU conducts a background check on all final candidates for certain faculty and staff positions. The background check includes contacting the final candidate's current and previous employer(s) to ask whether, in the last seven years, there has been a substantiated finding of misconduct violating that employer's applicable sexual misconduct policies. To implement this process, the University requires a final candidate to complete and sign the form entitled "Authorization to Release Information" after execution of an offer letter.
