

Boston Housing Reference Sheet

Map of Boston and neighborhoods

Basic Boston Housing

Traits:

1. Boston is an old city, and our housing is old too. Many apartments do not have elevators, central air conditioning, or laundry in-building.
2. Boston's rental housing is in short supply and many apartments too pricey to afford alone. Finding roommates is key.
3. Boston is a college town, which means most apartments begin to turn over during the summer and continue up to the beginning of September.

Students are strongly encouraged to start their apartment search early and to visit apartments before signing a lease. Most landlords will not rent to tenants who they have not met.

Finding Roommates
Most students in Boston will live with roommates to make housing more affordable. Before deciding to live with a roommate, students should make sure they have three "C's": credit, consideration, and communication. Roommates in Boston are "jointly and severally" liable for rent, meaning that if one roommate doesn't pay, everyone else has to make up the rest.	Popular Roommate-Finding Resources Off-Campus Services Roommate Finder offcampus.bu.edu BU login and password required to access roommate listings. Your BUMC Class Accepted Students Facebook page.
Finding Housing
BU Resources <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Housing Resources bumc.bu.edu/ohr Located on the Medical Campus, Housing Resources assists students with their housing search from the beginning of the process to reading and signing a lease. Contact 617-358-6550 or ohr@bu.edu. BU Off-Campus Services offcampus.bu.edu, is the apartment and roommate database with listings throughout the Greater Boston area. BU Housing bu.edu/housing/graduate-housing offers University owned apartments and dormitories for rent. Graduate students who want to live in housing that is managed by Boston University and located on the CRC should call 617-353-3511. Incoming classes have Facebook pages for students to connect, find roommates, ask housing questions and learn from others about their housing search. 	For You To Know Realtors: Agent/Broker If you are short on time or have very specific criteria, using a realtor is a good option. They can drive you around, show you several apartments during one appointment, and may know a lot about the neighborhood where they work. Massachusetts law mandates that only the party who hires the broker - landlord or tenant - must pay the broker fee. This means, if a landlord hires the broker, the tenant does not pay the fee. If a tenant initiates contact with a broker and signs a disclosure, they may be liable for the fee even if it's verbal or informal. You should always try to negotiate the agency fee. Property Managers Landlords hire managers to rent/maintain their buildings. No agency fee is charged. Before You Sign the Lease It is strongly suggested that you view the property before you move in. If you cannot see the property yourself, connect with friends or family to see it for you. You can also ask to video chat with the agent/landlord, so you can at least see the property in real time.
