

Positions and Employment

1987 – 1992 Assistant Prof. of Neurology and Public Health, Boston University School of Medicine
1987 – present Lecturer in Neurology, Harvard University School of Medicine
1987 – present Assistant in Neurogenetics, Neurology Service, Massachusetts General Hospital
1992 – 1997 Assoc. Professor of Neurology & Public Health, Boston University School of Medicine
1995 – present Genetic Epidemiologist, ENRVA Hospital, Bedford, MA
1997 – present Prof. of Neurology, Epidemiology & Biostatistics, Boston University School of Medicine
1998 – present Chief, Biomedical Genetics & Professor of Medicine, Boston Univ. School of Medicine
1998 – present Director, Boston University Molecular Genetics Core Facility
2000 – 2003 Scientific Advisory Board, Sequenom, Inc.
2001 – present Massachusetts Public Health Genetics Advisory Committee
2002 – present Professor of Genetics & Genomics, Boston University School of Medicine
2010 – present Professor of Ophthalmology, Boston University School of Medicine
2012 – present Director, Boston University Transformative Training Program in Addiction Science

Awards, Honors, Licensure and Certification:

Indiana University Purdue University at Indianapolis Fellowship (1981-1982)
Graduate Student Competition for Sigma Xi, second place (1984)
John H. Edwards Fellowship (1984-1985)
NIH Postdoctoral Training Fellowship (1985-1987)
American Board of Medical Genetics diplomate (1987)
Postdoctoral National Research Service Award – declined (1987)
Alfred P. Sloan Research Fellow (1991-1993)
American College of Medical Genetics - Founding Fellow (1992)
Test and Technology Transfer Committee of the American College of Medical Genetics (1993-present)
Who's Who in the World (1998)
Joseph P. Foley lecturer - Case Western Reserve University (2000)
Distinguished Alumnus – Indiana University (2002)
Scientific Achievement Award – Department of Medicine, Boston University (2011)